Appendix 4 - Samples of student questionnaire

Questionnaire on Maths learning: Name [redacted]

- How have you prepared for your maths assessments?

  Please tell me what you have done, where you've done it and for roughly how long?

  - Have revision booklets, look through old Past Papers.
  - Make sure to go home and do revision.

- Are you happy with the preparation you have done?

- Please tell me about the conversation you have had with your parents or carers about their maths education.

  - I have always struggled to do maths ever since Primary, in highschool I was always thrown into core classrooms till end of year 10-11.

- Is there anything that you think would help you further with preparing for maths assessments?

  - group catchup on certain topics everyone is lacking on, bit focus.

  - Hotel online learning.

Questionnaire on Maths learning: Name: [redacted]

- How have you prepared for your maths assessments? Yes

  Please tell me what you have done, where you've done it and for roughly how long? Revise every wednesday for 45 mins

- Are you happy with the preparation you have done?

  very

- Please tell me about the conversation you have had with your parents or carers about their maths education. They hated it

- Is there anything that you think would help you further with preparing for maths assessments?

  No, I'm good online: It did not work at all, gave me a gap in my education. Should have

Questionnaire on Maths learning: Name: [redacted]

- How have you prepared for your maths assessments?

  Please tell me what you have done, where you've done it and for roughly how long?

  Yes, I have done extra work. Why I usually went through past papers. Which was really helper from me.

- Are you happy with the preparation you have done?

  Somewhere happy. I feel like I could do more.

- Please tell me about the conversation you have had with your parents or carers about their maths education.

  Education we're told very hard. Parents didn't have easy, means just give lots of work and that work was not example in easier manners.

- Is there anything that you think would help you further with preparing for maths assessments?

  Not really.. I think the teachers and work, they give me were all I needed to pass the maths.

Questionnaire on Maths learning: Nam[redacted]

- How have you prepared for your maths assessments?

  Please tell me what you have done, where you've done it and for roughly how long?
  Revised maths - 30 min - home

- Are you happy with the preparation you have done?
  yes

- Please tell me about the conversation you have had with your parents or carers about their maths education. that they don't have any maths qualifications

- Is there anything that you think would help you further with preparing for maths assessments?
  doing more tests.

Questionnaire on Maths learning: Name: [redacted]

- How have you prepared for your maths assessments?

  Please tell me what you have done, where you've done it and for roughly how long?

I have extra lesson a 1 to 1
about 1 hour - 1 hour 30 min
I would do practice sheets at home

- Are you happy with the preparation you have done?

Yes but I would like to do more

- Please tell me about the conversation you have had with your parents or carers about their maths education.

my mum left school at 15 as there was no GCSE's. She went back to school when she was older for once a week at a night School to do maths and English. She scored really high in both GCSEs

- Is there anything that you think would help you further with preparing for maths assessments?

maybe more 1 to 1 but that would impact my other subjects.

I really disliked online learning all aspects of it. I struggled with it massively I much prefer in School learning, I don't struggle with lack of motivation.

Questionnaire on Maths learning: Name: [redacted]

- How have you prepared for your maths assessments?

  Please tell me what you have done, where you've done it and for roughly how long? I've made notes in my book a day or two roughly looked through my notes. in the morning again looked and revised

- Are you happy with the preparation you have done?

  Yes

- Please tell me about the conversation you have had with your parents or carers about their maths education. I do talk about maths with my mum more, we discussed different problems and she would help me out, other than that I don't ask her about her education

- Is there anything that you think would help you further with preparing for maths assessments?

  Probably ~~nothing~~ manage my time more so I have time to revise more

Questionnaire on Maths learning: Name: [redacted]

- How have you prepared for your maths assessments?

  Please tell me what you have done, where you've done it and for roughly how long?

Sometimes I do Practice Papers, or I look through my book and just go through it.

- Are you happy with the preparation you have done?

a little

- Please tell me about the conversation you have had with your parents or carers about their maths education.

my mum didn't like maths at all, she preferred english

- Is there anything that you think would help you further with preparing for maths assessments?

If I do more Practice Papers/questions

* online learning is way harder, I prefer one to one, even in the classroom

Questionnaire on Maths learning: Name: [redacted]

- How have you prepared for your maths assessments?

  Please tell me what you have done, where you've done it and for roughly how long?

Past Papers throughout the year. Extra one hour support session on Mondays with David. Extra support sessions at home from tutor.

- Are you happy with the preparation you have done?

  YES.

- Please tell me about the conversation you have had with your parents or carers about their maths education.

My Mother hates maths and failed. My dad is dyslexic and we live in a room and not taught anything so he also failed maths

- Is there anything that you think would help you further with preparing for maths assessments?

  NO