Appendix 7: Creating Space

Post-Covid we've undergone a number of changes as a team. We no longer have regular team meetings (outside the action research meeting), our office layout has changed and we're not as readily available to each other face to face as we were in the past. Our strengths had become our weaknesses. Collaboration and problem-solving were no longer happening regularly and as a result some of us felt 'out of touch.' We resolved this by creating our own space and have committed to retaining our monthly meeting in future.
